

New Print Publication: Connect with Attendees After IDWeek Concludes

We're excited to announce a new opportunity to connect IDWeek exhibitors and sponsors with both IDWeek attendees and the international infectious disease community after IDWeek.

IDWeek will publish a post-conference print highlights issue of IDWeek Daily News, which will be mailed in early November to all IDWeek attendees in the United States and Canada.

Editorial content will include conference highlights and additional session coverage beyond what is featured in the IDWeek digital daily newspaper. Attendees will be able to look back on highlights from the conference, and also see what they may have missed...all in the comfort of their home or office.

In addition to the print publication, the digital version will be distributed to more than 30,000 infectious disease practitioners through a special edition of our IDWeek Daily News email newsletter.

Remind attendees about product and services, clinical trial news and more – your ad will be seen. You will also be reaching thousands of individuals unable to attend IDWeek, but want to hear about your offerings.

The email recipient list will include members of IDSA, SHEA, PIDS, HIVMA, and SIDP, IDWeek 2020 and IDWeek 2019 attendees, along with 2018, 2019, and 2020 abstract submitters.

FAQs

Why should I advertise in this print publication?

You will reach IDWeek attendees at their homes and offices. We anticipate mailing 8,000 copies (minimum.)

Who will the publication be mailed to?

IDWeek 2020 attendees in the United States and Canada. Attendees provided either their home or office address when they registered for IDWeek 2020.

Will I also reach those who did not attend IDWeek 2020?

Yes, we will also distribute the digital version to more than 30,000 recipients via our email newsletter.

When will attendees receive the publication?

We expect that the publication will arrive in mailboxes between November 6 and November 12.
