

FAQs: Health Pass

GENERAL

What is CLEAR Health Pass?

CLEAR Health Pass is a feature in the free CLEAR app that provides an easy way to complete health screenings for a safer return to what you love.

To create a Health Pass, you'll be asked to sign up for CLEAR and follow instructions to comply with the health requirements of the participating organization. This could include uploading proof of vaccination, linking a negative COVID-19 test, or filling out a health survey.

How to use Health Pass?

1. Download the free CLEAR app and tap the white Health Pass tile.
2. Select Health Pass and choose the tile associated with your organization or enter a unique code if you were provided one.
3. Follow instructions to create a free account.
4. Complete your entry requirement checklist which could include linking your vaccination information, uploading a negative COVID-19 test, and/or taking a quick health survey.
5. Show your Health Pass upon arrival for faster, safer entry!

Open the CLEAR app.

Enroll in CLEAR or confirm identity.

Securely scan your DCC or NHS vaccine QR code.

Before arrival, take health survey.

Open Health Pass.

What does it mean to get a red, green, or amber/gold status?

The color of your Health Pass may indicate different things depending on your configuration (proof of vaccination, negative COVID-19 test, health survey, or booster).

A green Health Pass indicates that the user has met your health requirements and is good to go. On the other hand, amber/gold or red usually indicates the user has not met the criteria and will need to reach out to you for instructions on how to proceed.

If you receive an amber or gold Health Pass, you will also want to contact the organization to understand what this status means for you.

How long does a Health Pass result last?

It can vary by organization. Your Health Pass will indicate when it expires below the QR code.

What if I will visit the same location over the course of a few days? Can I use the same Health Pass or do I need to create a new one?

You can use your Health Pass at the same location while it is active. However, your Health Pass will expire after a certain period of time. This window of time varies depending on the organization. Your Health Pass will indicate when it expires below the QR code. Once it expires, you will need to create a new Health Pass which is easy with your existing CLEAR account. No need to re-enroll!

How can I find my Health Pass result again after I close the app?

Open the CLEAR app and tap on the white Health Pass tile. Select “Open Health Pass” to retrieve your result again.

Can I take a screenshot of my Health Pass QR code for entry?

No, you must show your Health Pass in the CLEAR app. Your Health Pass features a moving background to deter fraud.

Does Health Pass support international vaccines?

Yes, Health Pass can verify internationally issued vaccines for the following QR code standards: EU Digital Covid Certification (DCC) and UK National Health Service (NHS) Covid Pass. Users within the U.S. will need to download the free CLEAR app or upgrade to version 1.49.0 (both for iOS and Android) in order to select the Digital Vaccine Card and scan their DCC or NHS QR code.

In addition, use of the CLEAR app is not yet supported in EU and UK territories. Please encourage any international audiences to download and use the CLEAR app once physically located in the U.S. Depending on country origin, some users may also need to modify their app store settings (change country to U.S. or other listed available country) in order to search for CLEAR.

Can I create a Health Pass for someone else?

No, you are not able to create a Health Pass for someone else. CLEAR verifies the identity of the user creating the Health Pass which enables the user to own their health information.

Download or update your CLEAR app to the newest version. Then, follow the instructions shown in the chart above.

Will I still be able to link test results directly through a provider?

Why am I unable to generate a green Health Pass after uploading an image or a file of my lab test result?

LINKING COVID-19 VACCINATIONS IN HEALTH PASS

What if I can't find my vaccination provider or if I find it but am having trouble syncing to Health Pass?

If you are unable to find your provider, CLEAR may not be able to link with them at this time. Please attempt to upload your CDC card.

What if I receive an "oops" error message when I scan my CDC card?

First, make sure you are using the most updated version of the CLEAR app. If you are still unable to upload your card it may be for one of the following reasons: a sticker is covering it, it is slightly damaged, it is an international CDC Card, you have manually entered incorrect information, you have two different cards.

What if I entered my information incorrectly for my CDC card?

Contact Member Services and we will wipe your membership clean so you can re-enroll and re-scan your CDC card. Currently there is no option to modify a CDC card after it has been uploaded.

What if I received my first and second dose of the vaccine by different providers?

There's an option to add another provider when linking your vaccination information. If both providers are listed in the CLEAR app, you'll be able to link directly with both of them. However, if you cannot find them, you may have to upload your CDC card.
